

The School of Electronic, Engineering and Mathematical Sciences listened to your feedback

You said

We did

There is a lack of suitable working space on campus.

The ISG have built two soundproof pods available for PGRs to use.

I'm unclear of my progression targets.

The Department of Physics have introduced induction sessions at the beginning of the academic year to clarify expectations and assessments.

There is a lack of specialist training available for PGRs.

In 2022/23, Computer Science, Maths and ISG have revived and revised the training available and introduced for new sessions in during Term 2.

There is a lack of research culture.

The Department of Electronic Engineering have established a series of research workshops available to PGRs.

You student voice in action

Complete the Postgraduate Research Experience Survey 2024 to shape what's next...

SCAN ME