Summer Vacation Assessment Period
Guidance for Students
Academic Year 2020-21

It is essential that all students taking any form of assessment during the Summer Vacation Assessment Period 2020/21 read this document. Please note this document was previously known as the ‘Summer Vacation Assessment Period Instructions to Candidates’.

All work submitted must be a student’s own efforts. Failure to observe any of the instructions within may constitute an offence under the Regulations on Academic Misconduct, or could otherwise count against you.

Important information on terminology that may be used outside of this document:
- Degree Course – May also be referred to as ‘degree programme’ or simply ‘programme’, these terms refer to the qualification you will be awarded upon successful completion of your studies.
- Module – May also be referred to as ‘course’, this refers to the individual units you will study each year to complete your degree course.

The information in the document is correct at the time of publication in July 2021. However as a result of the Covid-19 Pandemic, some of these arrangements are to be confirmed and others would be subject to review if further circumstances outside of the College’s control were to occur, for example a further local or a national lockdown.

PART 7 – Support & Advice
PART 1 - Registration for Modules & Assessment

1. Once results have been published in summer 2021 students will be notified as to whether they are being offered the opportunity to complete assessments during the Summer Vacation Assessment Period through their outcome in Campus Connect. This may include students being offered Resits, First Sits (UG only) and Deferrals of Assessment.

2. Please note that there are criteria for students to be offered a retake during the Summer Vacation Assessment Period and students not meeting these criteria will not have this opportunity. For the details of the criteria in 2020/21 please see Undergraduate and Postgraduate Taught Regulations and the 2020/21 Fairness and Assurance Policy.

3. All students offered the opportunity to complete assessments during the Summer Vacation Assessment Period should discuss their options with their Department and confirm which modules they should be completing during the assessment period.

4. Students deciding to take up the option of completing assessments during the Summer Vacation Assessment Period must register by responding in Campus Connect and completing the online form by the deadline indicated. If a student fails to register by the deadline indicated they will lose the opportunity to take assessments at this time and must retake in the next academic year. Deadlines are as follows: Tuesday 27 July 2021 for Undergraduates and Wednesday 13 August 2021 for Postgraduates.

5. If you take up the option of completing a capped resit during the Summer Vacation Assessment Period a resit fee applies. For students who have been granted first sits, uncapped resits or have deferred assessment no fee is applicable. The fees for 2020/21 are to be confirmed and will be published on our Assessment & Results webpages as soon as they are available.

6. Please be aware that once registrations are finalised, there will be no further opportunity to amend registrations or withdraw from assessments. Therefore, any registrations made will count as an attempt at the module and if module registrations are missing you will not be entered for the assessment.

7. Due to their nature some modules will not be available over the Summer Vacation Assessment Period for example practical or collaborative assessments. Your School will be able to advise on which assessments in which modules this is.

8. The assessment for a module during the summer may be by coursework or examination, or a combination of both, and may not necessarily follow the format of the original assessment. Your School will be able to advise you on the format of the assessment.

9. The final mark for resit attempts will be capped at a minimum pass – 40% for Undergraduates and 50% for Postgraduates. The exception to this is for undergraduates taking a ‘First Sit; and postgraduate students who have been granted an ‘Uncapped Resit’ which are not capped.

10. Capped resits will count as the second and final attempt at the module. Therefore, failure to successfully pass the resit(s) required for progression or award may mean that you will not be able to continue your studies at the College or be awarded the degree you have been studying for.

11. Examinations in the Summer Vacation Assessment Period will take place between Monday 23 August and Friday 10 September. Further information will be published Assessment & Results webpages.
12. The examination timetable for the Summer Vacation Assessment Period will be available on Wednesday 18th August, 1-2 weeks prior to the Summer Vacation Assessment Period. Information on accessing this will be e-mailed to students College email addresses taking retakes at this time.

13. Deadlines for the submission of extenuating circumstances for Summer Vacation Period assessments in 2020/21 are published on the Assessment & Results webpages.

PART 2 – Guide to Assessments

A. Types of Assessment

1. Modules are assessed in a variety of different ways to test that students have met the learning outcomes of the module.

2. Where at all possible assessments will be set within the College term dates for your degree course. There are a small number of assessments that cannot be held within these dates and these will be held within 1 week of the start or end of term. Your School will inform you at the start of the academic year if any of your assessments are to be scheduled outside of term.

3. The table below summarises the key types of assessments that run for students on taught degree courses. Noting that this list is not exhaustive and other assessments may be undertaken as outlined in the course and module specifications.

B. Candidate Numbers

1. To enable assessed work to be marked anonymously, all students are allocated a Candidate Number to be used to identify themselves on all examinations and coursework, including dissertations.

2. Candidate Numbers will be allocated to students once they have enrolled at the beginning of the academic year and can be viewed through Campus Connect.

3. Unless otherwise instructed you must not include your name or Student Number on any work submitted for assessment.

4. It is vital that you do not use your Candidate Number in conjunction with anything that identifies you, such as your name or Student Number. All members of staff who are authorised to see Candidate Numbers, and who will not be involved in the marking process, will already be able to look it up, so students should never need to give it to a member of staff.

5. Students are allowed to bring a small piece of paper with only your Candidate Number on it with them to invigilated examinations, so that they do not need to memorise this number.

C. Academic Misconduct

1. The College takes allegations of academic misconduct very seriously. The College Regulations on Academic Misconduct explains what an assessment offence is, how they are investigated and penalties which may be imposed.

2. Academic misconduct includes, but is not limited to:
   a) Plagiarism (see point 4 below)
   b) Commissioning (submitting work wholly or partly written by another person, whether or not for payment);
   c) Duplication of work, (submitting work which you have already submitted for assessment for the same or another course);
   d) Falsification;
   e) Impersonation;
   f) Deception;
   g) Collusion, (acting together with another person in order to obtain an advantage for yourself and/or the other person);
   h) Failure to comply with the rules governing examinations and assessments, including those set out in Parts 3 and 4 of this document.

3. It is important that all students take steps to ensure that they do not commit academic misconduct, unintentionally or otherwise. You are strongly encouraged to undertake the ‘Avoiding Plagiarism’ course on Moodle and to familiarise yourself with the principles of academic integrity and good scholarly practice. Please speak with your Personal Tutors or other members of staff in your Department if you have any queries about what constitutes academic misconduct.

4. ‘Plagiarism’ is the presentation of another person’s work in any quantity without adequately identifying it and citing its source in a way which is consistent with good scholarly practice in the discipline and commensurate with the level of professional conduct expected from the student. The source which is plagiarised may take any form (including words, graphs and images, musical texts, data, source code, ideas or judgements) and may exist in any published or unpublished medium, including the internet. Plagiarism may occur in any piece of work presented by a student, including examination scripts, although standards for citation of sources may vary dependent on the method of assessment.

5. Plagiarism detection software will be used where appropriate. Identifying plagiarism is a matter of expert academic judgement, based on a comparison across the student’s work and on knowledge of sources, practices and expectations for professional conduct in the discipline. Therefore it is possible to determine that an offence has occurred from an assessment of the student's work alone, without reference to further evidence. For Department specific guidance on avoiding plagiarism, please check your Department Student Handbook.

6. For guidance on how the academic misconduct process operates and what to expect if an allegation is made in respect of your work please visit our Academic Misconduct webpage.

D. Assessment Adjustments

1. The Disability & Dyslexia Services team are available to support all disabled students who have registered their disability, including adjustments to assessments.

2. A number of different adjustments can be made for invigilated exams and these are known as ’Exam Access Arrangements’; please see Part 3(B) for further information.

3. Arrangements are also available for other types of assessment, including marking guideline adjustments for students with a specific learning difficulty (dyslexia & dyspraxia) and additional time to respond to oral questions, for example, when delivering a presentation.

4. The Disability & Dyslexia Service should be contacted regarding any adjustments. They can assess the requirement and determine whether requested adjustments can be put in place. Email disability-dyslexia@royalholloway.ac.uk.

PART 3 – College Examination & Assessment Periods & Invigilated Exams

A. College Summer Vacation Assessment Period and the Examination & Assessment Timetable

1. The Summer Vacation Assessment period in 2020/21 will take place from Monday 23 August to Friday 10 September.

2. Timetables for the College Summer Vacation Assessment period will be published to students on Wednesday 18th August. Students will be e-mailed to their College email address on the day the timetable is released with further information on how this is accessed. Modules assessed by assessment types other than written exams and those examined outside the College Examination and Assessment period, will not be listed on the timetable. Information about these will be available from your School.

3. Examination and Assessment periods for exams will also be run for students on January-starting degree courses and for students retaking assessments in the Summer Vacation Assessment Period.
during the summer. Students completing assessments in this period will be e-mailed with details of these examinations periods.

4. When examination timetables are published please check carefully that all the examinations that you are expecting are included and that none of your examinations have been scheduled to run simultaneously. If you do find an error, you must report the problem to Student Administration (E-mail: studentservices@royalholloway.ac.uk) as a matter of urgency.

5. For further information on the Examinations Timetable and the College’s Timetabling Policy please see the Examination Timetabling Policy on the Assessment & Results webpages. As noted in the document, the College appreciates the importance of your examinations and will do what it reasonably can to ensure that the examination schedule is as fair as possible. However, having multiple exams in a short space of time is not regarded as being detrimental to performance in examinations and it is equally important that students have a realistic expectation of what demands their individual examination timetable may make and plan for this in advance in their studies and revision time.

B. Exam Access Arrangements for Invigilated Exams

1. If you have registered your disability with the Disability & Dyslexia Service, you may be eligible for Exam Access Arrangements such as extra time.

2. Full details regarding Exam Access Arrangements can be found on the Assessment & Results webpage.

3. Students who have a disability as defined in the Equality Act 2010 (a mental or physical impairment which has a substantial and long-term effect on your ability to carry out normal day-to-day activities) and are registered with Disability and Dyslexia Services will only need to apply once to be considered for and allocated Exam Access Arrangements appropriate for their disability or condition. These Exam Access Arrangements will then be carried over from one year to the other for the duration of their study at the College, unless there is a change in their impairment. In this case, they will be responsible for informing the Disability & Dyslexia Services as promptly as possible.

4. Students with Specific Learning Difficulties who have registered with the Disability & Dyslexia Services will automatically be allocated Exam Access Arrangements in accordance with the recommendations contained in the Educational Psychologist or Specialist Teachers report that they need to provide on registration. These Exam Access Arrangements will be put in place for the duration of their study at the College, unless there is a change in their circumstances. In this case, they will be responsible for informing the Disability & Dyslexia Services as promptly as possible.

5. Students who are not registered with Disability & Dyslexia Services but have a short or medium-term condition may apply for Exam Access Arrangements for a single assessment period. Applications should be submitted as soon as possible so that arrangements can be put in place in good time and where at all possible by Friday 29 January 2021. We cannot guarantee Exam Access Arrangements when applications are made after this date.

6. If during the College examination period you are diagnosed with a condition for which Exam Access Arrangements might be helpful, you should contact Disability and Dyslexia Services to seek advice and support about whether appropriate arrangements can be put in place and if so, how to apply for these (E-mail; disability-dyslexia@rhul.ac.uk).
7. Please note that some Exam Access Arrangements are only available to students who have a disability and/or a SpLD and are registered with the Disability and Dyslexia Services. Where students with a disability/SpLD have been given reasonable adjustments during the year, for example, mentoring support, the College is deemed to have taken steps to take account of the student’s disability. The exam board will therefore not take a student’s condition into account when making decision on modules outcomes, progression and/or classification. Where students are affected by a short-term unforeseen and unpreventable circumstance such as a bout of appendicitis they should submit extenuating circumstances, as outlined in Part 5. Similarly where students experience an unforeseen and unpreventable change to their disability or long term medical condition, which again is not mitigated by the reasonable adjustments that have been put in place, they should submit extenuating circumstances, as outlined in Part 5.

C. Conduct in Invigilated Exams

Before the Exam

1. Invigilated examinations will be held on the Egham Campus of the College.

2. College invigilated examinations begin at 10:00 or at 14:00. Start times for Department Invigilated examinations and In-Class Tests may vary. However, you should ensure that you arrive at the Examination Venue at least 20 minutes before the scheduled start of the examination to allow sufficient time to deposit your belongings and find your seat.

3. If you arrive late for an examination you must report directly to the Invigilator in the Examination Venue. If you arrive more than half an hour late you may be permitted to complete the examination; however, your work will only be marked at the discretion of the Department Assessment Board. You will not be allowed extra time at the end of an examination to compensate for late arrival.

4. A map of the Examination Venues can be found on the Assessment & Results webpages. You are advised to check where the Examination Venues are before the day of the examination and allow plenty of time to travel to campus for the examination.

5. If you are unable to attend an examination you must inform the College before the scheduled start of the examination. Please see Part 5 below for further details.

The Start of the Exam

6. You are required to bring your College Card with you to each examination. The photo on your College Card must be clear – if the photo has been damaged you must bring additional official photo ID (passport, UK drivers’ license or EU identity card) as well as your College Card.

7. If sufficient proof of your identity is not provided, you will be asked to complete an identity check at the end of the examination. If the Invigilator has reason to doubt your identity they will hold you back at the end of the examination to perform further checks to establish your identity.

8. If you wear a headscarf or other garment for religious reasons, you are not expected to remove this during the examination. However, if the garment worn will prevent an invigilator from visually confirming your identity during the examination for example, if a face veil is worn, then please inform the Invigilator at the beginning of the examination, so that arrangements can be made for the ID check to be completed in a suitable environment at the end of the examination by an appropriate member of staff.
9. As soon as you arrive at the Examination Venue look on the seating plan posted outside the Venue to find your seat number. Do not attempt to enter the Venue until told to do so by the Invigilator.

10. Ensure you have nothing written on any part of your body before entering the Examination Venue.

11. Once you have entered the Examination Venue you must not attempt to communicate with another candidate in any way.

12. Before going to your seat, you must leave any unauthorised items at the edge of the room. If you have any small valuables, such as a wallet or mobile phone (switched off), you must ask the invigilator for a plastic bag to put the item(s) in. The item(s) must then remain in the bag, underneath the front corner of your desk for the duration of the exam. If the item is moved to the desk or removed from the bag during the examination, this will be treated as an assessment offence.

13. Non-valuable items or those containing any academic content, such as revision notes or text books, should not be held in a plastic bags under your desk and must be left outside the exam venue or at the edge of the examination venue. If an item containing academic content is found under your desk, this will be treated as an assessment offence.

14. Please note any items left at the edge of the Examination Venue or held under your desk in a bag are left at your own risk. It is therefore recommended that you do not bring any valuables with you to an examination.

15. You must make sure all mobile phone and electronic devices have been switched off before they are left at the edge of the room or underneath your desk in a plastic bag. If a device causes a disruption during an examination, this may be treated as an assessment offence.

16. The following are examples of items that are unauthorised and must not be left on your person or taken to your seat/desk, unless held in a bag underneath your desk/chair:
   (a) personal items, such as bags, purses, wallets, credit card holders and keys;
   (b) outdoor clothing, including coats, hats and scarfs - unless worn for religious reasons (please see 8 above);
   (c) pencil cases, except those which are entirely transparent and clear;
   (d) mobile telephones, pagers, electronic notebooks, USB devices or other computer or electronic equipment;
   (e) headphones, earphones and any other form of in-ear device including ear plugs - unless required due to hearing impairment, for example, hearing aids;
   (f) ‘Smartwatches’;
   (g) food - you may have a small quantity of sweets or chewing gum but these must be placed in a small, clear plastic bag on your desk;
   (h) drink, except for soft drinks contained in a clear plastic bottle with all labels removed;
   (i) written material of any kind - the only exception is a small piece of paper with your candidate number
   (j) paper of any type including scrap paper;
   (k) electronic or paper dictionaries in any language, unless expressly permitted by the Department Assessment Board (see below);
   (l) calculators, unless authorised and expressly permitted by the Department Assessment Board (see below).

If you are found with any of the above items or any other unauthorised items on your person whilst at your desk or at any point during the examination, or you refuse to hand over any other item when directed to do so by an Invigilator, it will be treated as an assessment offence and investigated in accordance with the Regulations on Academic Misconduct.
17. Should you be found with anything written on your body, attempt to communicate with another candidate or be found with a mobile phone on your person or at your desk (unless this is held in a bag underneath your desk/chair), smartwatch or any other electronic device with you during the examination, it will be treated as an assessment offence and investigated in accordance with the Regulations on Academic Misconduct.

18. You should take to your seat your College Card and any other items that you will require during the examination and which are permitted by the Department Assessment Board. Standard items allowed in all examinations include pens, pencils (an HB pencil is essential for Multiple Choice Question papers), an eraser (without a label), a ruler and other writing or drawing implements. These items should be carried loose or in a transparent bag or transparent pencil case.

19. Specialist items of stationery, such as calculators and dictionaries, are only allowed in an examination where they have been expressly permitted by the Department Assessment Board and are listed on the front of the examination paper.

20. Calculators may be permitted in certain examinations. In such cases it is your responsibility to bring the correct authorised calculator to the exam. The types and model of calculator allowed in an examination are set by the Department that sets the examination paper. New students will be provided with a suitable calculator at the beginning of their studies. However, if you are a returning student, or you wish to use an alternative calculator to the one provided to you, you should check with your School office which calculators you are allowed to use in particular examinations. If you are taking examinations in more than one Department you will need to check with both Departments via your School(s) office which calculators are allowed as there may be cases where a calculator is permitted by one Department but not by another.

All calculators used in examinations must be approved for use by being labelled with the relevant Department label. Any calculators that do not have the correct label will not be allowed in the Examination Venue and will be confiscated. You may therefore have to write the examination without the use of a calculator.

21. Once you have been permitted to enter the examination venue, find your seat, sit down and place your College Card facing upwards at the corner of your desk. Do not turn over the question paper or begin writing until told to do so by the Invigilator. If you have trouble finding your seat, or suspect that another candidate has mistakenly taken your seat, you must raise your hand and seek the advice of the Invigilator. Do not simply take another empty seat.

22. Announcements will be made by the Invigilator(s) at the beginning, end and, on occasion, during the examination. You should be alert to any announcements because the Invigilators will be communicating important information. If you have difficulty in hearing the Invigilator at any point you should raise your hand and ask them to repeat the announcement.

During & After the Exam

23. You must write all your answers and rough work legibly in ink (ballpoint, rollerball or similar type of pen) in the answer booklet(s) provided, or directly on the question paper if told to do so on the question paper.

24. Please note examiners will make every reasonable effort to read examination scripts. Portions of script which are illegible will be marked in line with College Policy and may receive no marks. If you feel you have poor handwriting you should seek support from Disability and Dyslexia Services prior to the examination period to improve your writing.
25. The use of scrap paper is not permitted. The answer booklet should be used for all rough work and this should be crossed through on completion of the question. Extra answer booklets are available on request from the Invigilator, who must first be satisfied that you have completed the answer booklet(s) already provided.

26. If you have used more than one answer booklet, you should ensure these are securely fastened together with a treasury tag which will be provided by the Invigilator.

27. If at any time you wish to attract the attention of the Invigilator, for example to go to the toilet, you should raise your hand: Do not leave your desk without the Invigilator’s permission.

28. You will not be permitted to leave the examination venue during the first half hour or the last half hour of the examination. You may leave at other times only with the permission of the Invigilator. Once you leave the Examination Venue unsupervised, you will not be re-admitted. If you stay until the end of the examination, you must remain in your seat until told you may leave by the Invigilator.

29. When you leave the Examination Venue, take with you only those items that you brought in at the beginning. All question papers, answer booklets (used or unused) and other materials provided for use in the examination remain the property of the College and must be left behind.

30. When you leave, do so quietly, bearing in mind that other examinations may still be in progress in the room or at other sites nearby.

31. You should inform the Invigilator if you are feeling unwell during an examination and are unable to proceed with the assessment. However, please note that once you have left the Examination Venue you will not be permitted to resume the exam. It is not necessary to divulge the exact nature of your illness to the Invigilator, simply that you wish to leave the exam. Please note the invigilator will not pass this information on; you will need to submit Extenuating Circumstances; please see Part 5(C) for further information.

PART 4 – Open Book Exams & Online Examinations & Tests

1. Open Book Exams are exams which are to be distributed and returned electronically. Open Book Exams have a window of 23 hours to be completed. Assessments will usually be launched at 11:00am with the deadline at 10:00am the following day (All times are GMT or BST as appropriate to the UK).

2. Online Exams and Tests cover are assessments which are completed or distributed and submitted online. The duration of the Exam/Test is set as appropriate for completion of the assessment plus a period of additional time for uploading where this is required Online Exams will usually be launched at 10am and submitted later in the same day. Online Exams and Tests may have a window for completion (which may be a specific day or a number of days) and the assessment with an in-built timer for the duration of the exam which starts when the test is begun.

3. As outlined in Part 3(A) Open Book and Online Exams during the main College Examination & Assessment period will usually appear on the Examination & Assessment Timetable. All Open Book Exams and Online Exams and Tests outside of this time will not appear on the Timetable and will be communicated to you by your School.

4. Students may have Open Book Exams or Online Exams and Tests in successive days and multiple assessments within a week. However, having multiple assessments in a short space of time is not regarded as being detrimental to performance and it is equally important that students have a realistic expectation of what demands their assessment timetable may make and plan for this in advance in their studies and revision time.

Before the Assessment

5. Different Online assessments and Open Book Exams will have different arrangements, so please make sure you read the instructions sent to you by your School in advance on how the assessment will be completed, including how the assessment is to be accessed and submitted. Where you are being asked to complete an assessment online within a system your School may run a practice session for students so you can familiarise yourself with the system.

6. Make sure you understand the window for each assessment including when the assessment will be launched, when you must submit by and how long the assessment should take to complete and if a time limit will be applied once you start the assessment.

7. We recommend that you set aside time to complete the assessment in a space where you can work without distractions or interruptions to complete the paper. It is a good idea to plan where you will work in advance, warn people around you, and switch off your mobile/other communications. If you are in a different time zone to the UK, please calculate a suitable time of day in advance so you can ensure that you submit the work by the end of the assessment window.

8. If you have concerns in relation to accessing either IT equipment or good quality internet connections and you think this could impact your ability to complete the assessment, please flag this to your School as soon as you have been informed about the assessment. The College has support available to students in these circumstances to enable them to complete assessments.

During and After the Assessment

9. Please ensure that you read any instructions when you access or enter the assessment. Many assessments will have an instructions page which will cover important information, which could include:
   (a) The time limit for the assessment and submission deadline.
   (b) The word limit for the assessment.
   (c) The format for submitting the assessment, including if an answer sheet should be used.
   (d) The requirements for referencing the assessment.
   (e) Any supporting materials available in completing the assessment.

10. Please ensure you use your Candidate Number and do not include your name or Student ID Number anywhere on your work unless specifically asked to, to ensure your work is marked anonymously.

11. If you have any technical issues in accessing or submitting the assessment or problems in producing the assessment in the format requested you should contact your School for advice as soon as possible; do not leave this until after the deadline.

12. Extensions and Late Submissions are not permitted for Open Book Exams or Online Exams and Tests and Exams, failure to submit by the deadline will count as a non-submission.
13. If you are unwell or are unable to complete the assessment due to circumstances outside your control you will need to submit Extenuating Circumstance with appropriate evidence; please see Part 5(C) for further information.

14. Academic Misconduct in Open Book and Online Assessments: We check all online assessments for evidence of academic misconduct as for all assessments and any suspected offences will be investigated as outlined in Part 2(C). When completing online assessments please remember:

   (a) The work submitted must be your own work and only your work. You may not ask for help with the assessments from any source.
   (b) Avoid plagiarism: Don't copy and paste someone else's words into your notes or drafts; including your own words from a previous assignments.
   (c) Avoid collusion: You must not communicate about the assessment or help anyone else while it is on-going.
   (d) Communication of examination paper content with other candidates is forbidden before, during and after the examination.

Written assessments will be run through plagiarism detection software (Turnitin). The software will also compare your work against all other students’ submitted work. Any unattributed collaboration among students will be treated as collusion, a serious assessment offence.

PART 5 – Illness & Unforeseen Circumstances Impacting Assessments

A. Absence from Assessments

1. If you are unwell on the day of a test, examination or other assessment you must make a decision as to whether you feel well enough to complete the assessment. If you decide you are not well enough to attend, or are prevented from attending due to other circumstances, you should follow the guidance below on reporting your absence and the information in Part 5(C) in relation to submitting extenuating circumstances.

2. If you are unable to attend a College invigilated examination in a College Examination period you should, where possible, e-mail the Student Services Centre (E-mail: studentservices@royalholloway.ac.uk) before the scheduled start of the examination with your Name, Student ID and confirmation of the examination you are unable to attend and why. Notification will be forwarded to your School so they are aware of your non-attendance but please note this notification will not constitute formal submission of extenuating circumstances. If you wish to submit extenuating circumstance you must do so as outlined in Part 5(C).

3. If you are unable to attend an In-Class Test, Department Exam or other in-person or online assessment run by your School you should, where possible, e-mail your School before the scheduled start of the assessment with your Name, Student ID and confirmation of the examination you are unable to attend and why. This notification will not constitute formal submission of extenuating circumstances. If you wish to submit extenuating circumstance you must do so as outlined in Part 5(C).
4. If you miss an assessment or fail to submit a piece of assessed coursework without acceptable cause, or your application is not accepted through the submission of extenuating circumstances, you will be given an outcome of zero for that assessment, which may lead to a failing grade for the modules as a whole.

5. The College reserves the right to prevent a student from sitting an examination or assessment if by doing so it poses an undue risk to the student or other members of the College. This would be applied, for example, in the case of infectious illnesses to stop the spread of the illness to other students or members of staff.

B. Extenuating Circumstances

1. We know that you may have unforeseen and unpreventable circumstances that impact your ability to complete an assessment or which have a significant impact on your performance in the assessment. The Extenuating Circumstances process exists to enable you to report these circumstances so the College can consider if any mitigating actions can be taken. The Extenuating Circumstances – Guidance for Students which outlines the process and the Extenuating Circumstances Form are available on our Assessment & Results webpages.

2. The guidance defines extenuating circumstances as circumstances which are outside a student’s control and which may temporarily prevent a student from undertaking an assessment or which have a marked/significant detrimental/adverse impact on their ability to undertake assessment by coursework or examination to the standard normally expected. This means that such circumstances rarely occur and they are outside your control as they are:

   a) Unforeseeable - you would not have prior knowledge of the event (e.g. you cannot foresee that you will be involved in a car accident);
   b) Unpreventable – you could not reasonably do anything in your power to prevent such an event (e.g. you cannot reasonably prevent a burst appendix.)

3. The circumstances would be expected to have had a serious impact on your performance in assessed work. For example they may cause you to fail an exam which, based on other marks already obtained for the modules or on marks obtained for coursework and examinations in other modules, you would otherwise have been able to pass. Alternatively your circumstances may prevent you from actually taking an examination or completing other assessment (e.g. group or oral presentation).

4. You may also experience challenging long-term personal circumstances that impact on your ability to study, e.g. long-term illness of a close family member where you have some caring responsibilities. In such cases you should consider discussing with your Department and with College professional services whether it would be more beneficial to change to part-time study or interrupt your studies until these circumstances have eased and/or what support can be put in place to help you. Such circumstances may not necessarily be considered to be extenuating circumstances as they are not temporary and are not unforeseeable, that is, you know about them well ahead of the assessment.

5. If you experience circumstances that you believe meet the criteria set out in the Extenuating Circumstances – Guidance for Students in that they are outside your control, unforeseeable and unpreventable, it is your responsibility to submit an Extenuating Circumstances Application Form to the Extenuating Circumstances Committee and provide the appropriate evidence.
6. The Extenuating Circumstances – Guidance for Students includes detailed information on who must be informed, what are considered acceptable extenuating circumstances, what must be submitted (including what evidence is required), the process for the consideration of extenuating circumstances and what options are available to the boards of examiners. Students wishing to submit extenuating circumstances are expected to read the guidance carefully. It is a student’s responsibility to clearly identify on the form which assessments and modules they believe to have been impacted. The Extenuating Circumstances Committee will not consider your Extenuating Circumstances application for modules or assessments that are not listed on the application form.

7. In all cases, it is your responsibility to submit evidence to the Extenuating Circumstances Committee. It is also your responsibility to submit an online Extenuating Circumstances Application Form with details of the assessments affected and the impact of the illness on your performance.

   a) If you require documentation from any of the College Wellbeing services you should contact Student Advisory & Wellbeing Services (E-mail: wellbeing@royalholloway.ac.uk) who will collate all relevant interactions with their services into one document which will be provided to you.
   b) If you are registered as a patient with the Clarence Medical Centre and you need to request medical evidence you should contact them directly. They can only provide you with evidence of issues you have sought medical treatment for.

8. As outlined in the Extenuating Circumstances – Guidance for Students it is recommended that you submit your request and evidence as soon as possible but before the final deadlines. Please note that you cannot appeal after your results are released on the grounds that you did not submit extenuating circumstances as you were unsure whether they would affect your performance or if you feel that your circumstances are very private or confidential. Deadlines for the submission of extenuating circumstances for 2020/21 are published on the Assessment & Results webpages.

9. The deadline for Extenuating Circumstances for the Summer Vacation Assessment period is 12:00 midday Monday 13 September 2021.

In such cases you should contact the Student Services Centre, the Students’ Union and/or consult the Appeals Webpage for full details on the permitted grounds for appeal, evidence required, the appeals process and the deadline.

3. If you wish to appeal, you must submit a completed Appeals Form and supporting documentation within 15 working days of the results being formally released through the Campus Connect.
