COURSE OPTIONS FOR VISITING STUDENTS

ABOUT THE DEPARTMENT

French Department is one of the largest in the University of London, covering all the major periods from medieval times to the present. It is also one of the foremost departments in the country. The Times Good University Guide 2009 ranked the School 6th in the UK, having been awarded the 'top mark' of 5*A in the National Research Assessment Exercise, with an excellent score of 21 in the last Teaching Quality Assessment.

Exploring the extraordinarily rich fiction, cinema, art and languages of France and Francophone countries with world-class experts at Royal Holloway offers a unique opportunity to develop invaluable critical and communication skills, cross-cultural understanding and language proficiency.

ENTRY REQUIREMENTS

Many literature courses are taught in English, with some reading/viewing assignments in English, but previous knowledge of French language is nearly always required.

Language courses are taught in French and a specified level of French language ability is required. Entry onto some language courses may be subject to a language placement test.

Term 1 = Autumn Term

Term 2 = Spring Term
