POLICY

1. Introduction

Scope
The Royal Holloway University Founder's Square Events Policy aims to provide a clear framework for the consideration and programming of events on Founder's Square.

For the purposes of this document, an 'Event' is defined as any meeting, formal or informal gathering or other activity due to take place at, on behalf of, or in association with the University. Events may be for staff, students, visitors, or members of the public (where attendance has been co-ordinated in advance).

This policy covers both one-off events and recurring outdoor events, defined as follows:

- One-off events: events that are intended to take place only once and will be considered for approval on a case-by-case basis.
- Recurring events: existing events, or those that are intended to feature on a recurring basis in the University's calendar. These will require initial approval and then annual review and re-approval if changes to requirements occur.

'Founder's Square' is contained within the 'Heritage Quarter' and is defined as the paved area between the Emily Wilding Davison Building and the Founder's Building. (See appendix A)

The 'Heritage Quarter' covers the area from the east side of the Emily Wilding Davison Building and Windsor building (adjacent to the Arts Building and the Computer Centre), through Founder's Square, the Founder's building, the Quadrangles, and the grassed space adjacent to the tennis courts and car park 12. (See appendix A)

Vision

The Heritage Quarter is both an iconic space and a working campus; as custodians of this space and a grade 1 listed building the University is committed to honouring and protecting the heritage as well as enabling a wide range of recreational, cultural, social, and educational activities in line with the University's vision.

2. Priorities

Activities will be encouraged that enhance the quality of life for students, staff and visitors; promote active citizenship and a positive image of the University regionally, nationally, and internationally. Events must be designed and managed to protect, preserve and enhance the historic nature of the University properties and grounds.

Priority will be given to University events such as Open Days, Graduation Ceremonies, Summer Ball, Science Festival, Arrival Weekend (Start of Session).
3. Agreed Principles

So far as is reasonably practicable, this policy seeks to ensure that all events that take place at, on behalf of, or in association with Royal Holloway University follow the agreed principles outlined below:

a) Events in which a clear association with the University exists should not be detrimental to the institution's reputation.

b) Events avoid disruption through noise and/or visual distraction at peak studying times, and in particular during exams period, and considers those living and working in Founder's Building and studying in the library.

c) All events that take place at, on behalf of, or in association with the University (including student-led events) are compliant with all relevant UK health and safety legislation, codes of practice, guidance, standards etc. relating to events, together with University health and safety policies, guidance and procedures.

d) All relevant departments are informed of any events taking place in outdoor locations around campus (including the Conference Office in Commercial Services, the Maintenance, Security and Car Parking teams located in the Estates Department, and the Communications and Marketing Department).

e) Proposals for any outdoor events on Founder’s Square to be held on behalf of, or in association with the University gain the necessary approval.

6. Legislation, regulations and guidance

Legislative Context

The Health and Safety at Work etc. Act 1974 applies to all work activities, including events. It requires employers to ensure, so far as reasonably practicable, the health and safety of their employees, and anyone else who may be affected by their activities, including non-employees such as students.

The Management of Health and Safety at Work Regulations 1999 apply to everyone at work, regardless of the nature of that work. The Regulations require employers to plan, control, organise, monitor and review their work activities. Employers should assess the risks associated with significant hazards presented by the work activity, including events, in order to identify the preventative and precautionary measures necessary to reduce and control these risks. Specific hazards, such as manual handling, must be specifically risk assessed under separate legislation.

The Reporting of Injuries, Diseases and Dangerous Occurrences Regulations 2013 (RIDDOR) require that certain types of accidents, specific cases of occupational ill health and certain dangerous occurrences must be reported to the Health and Safety Executive. In certain circumstances this can include injuries sustained by non-employees, eg. students and members of the public attending events.

All events must conform wherever applicable to relevant legislation, including but not limited to:

- Health and Safety at Work Act 1974
- Data Protection Act 1994 and 1998
- Equality Act 2010
- The Management of Health and Safety at Work Regulations 1999
- The Reporting of Injuries, Diseases and Dangerous Occurrences Regulations 2013 (RIDDOR)
- Town and Country Planning Act 1990
- University Premises Licence
- The Children’s Act 1989
- Regulatory Reform (Fire Safety) Order 2005
- Wildlife and Countryside Act 1981
- Noise Act 1996
- Construction (Design and Management) Regulations 2015

The University has a procedure for inviting speakers to University events to assist students and staff organising events. The procedures contain important information to ensure events comply with the University Code of Practice for Freedom of Speech and the University Prevent obligations.

In accordance with the University's commitment to equality and diversity this Policy has been written and screened to avoid discrimination and promote a positive approach to race, disability and gender issues.
