Dear colleagues

Please note that some links in this email are new, some links in earlier emails are now obsolete.

The E-learning team are providing on-line training resources, and on-line meetings, to help you prepare your Moodle pages and recordings for the 2020-21 core requirements.

The support for teaching staff includes:

- A new focused Moodle core requirements course for staff that you can enter any time, to guide you in meeting the Moodle core requirements.

- For colleagues who have not yet been able to attend, concise orientation sessions for the Moodle core requirements, which will include a walk-through of essential Moodle course features and setting up Panopto/RePlay to record. These will be held in MS Teams. The next meetings are below. Please note that sessions may be recorded for colleagues who cannot attend, however attendance is recommended as there will be opportunities to ask your questions.

  In order to attend one of the sessions in MS Teams (each will have the same content), simply click on the link no less than 15 minutes before your chosen session, and either download the app (if you haven't done so already) or choose the web version. There is no need to book in advance.

  Thursday 13 August 3-3.45pm
  Wednesday 19 August 11-11.45am

In addition, the E-Learning Team has produced a series of on-line courses for staff that you can enter at any time, to support you in further developing your flexible education, including:

- More wide-ranging guidance on using Moodle.
- Guidance on developing online assessments with Moodle.
- Guidance on creating engaging content with RePlay/Panopto.
- Guidance on accessible and inclusive digital course design.

If you would like further help with developing your e-learning, please email e-learning@rhul.ac.uk

Best wishes
The E-Learning team
