

Katy Wright

Educational Qualifications

BA (Hons) in English (Royal Holloway)

MA in Postmodernism, Literature and Contemporary Culture (Royal Holloway)

PhD on the writing of J. M. Coetzee (Royal Holloway)

Professional Qualifications

PG Cert in Teaching EAP (Nottingham)

Profile

As well as studying at Royal Holloway at undergraduate and postgraduate level, I was employed as an English Language Tutor by the college from 2010 to 2015. In this role, I was responsible for teaching academic English and study skills to international students. One of the key aims of this support was to help students to develop and improve their academic writing and as part of this, I worked with students studying in all disciplines across the college. As a result, in both my personal and professional experience I have an excellent understanding of all elements of academic writing and I make full use of this to be an efficient, effective proofreader. I am flexible and reliable in my approach to each new project and I am conscientious and meticulous with a strong eye for detail. As one of Royal Holloway's approved proofreaders, I will strive to make a positive difference to your language accuracy in your final writing and I look forward to working with you soon.

Fees

Please send me a 3 page sample of your work (preferably taken from the middle of your project). I will then give you a price estimate based on the amount of error seen in the sample and get back to you with my availability, a time frame and a quotation based on the number of words in the project.