

Discipline and Misconduct in Halls

Hall Life rules and regulations.

Whilst living in Halls, we want to make sure that it's a pleasant and safe experience for everyone. It's important to be aware of the rules and regulations.

Anti-social behaviour and misconduct will not be tolerated.

Behaviour that has a negative impact on wellbeing, or the health and safety of others and/or leads to damage of College property will be treated seriously.

Anti-social behaviour has many serious consequences and can lead to:

- Misconduct hearings
- Requests to leave Halls of residence and eviction notices
- Your academic department being informed
- Police investigation and involvement
- Future restrictions to living in Halls
- Financial sanctions

It is therefore incredibly important that you follow the rules. Here are some things you can do to avoid getting in trouble:

- Don't possess illegal drugs or 'legal highs'. Royal Holloway will not tolerate illegal drug use, legal highs or possession within Halls or on campus
- Don't drink alcohol in excess. Alcohol in excess can endanger the health and safety of yourself and others
- All buildings on campus are smoke free and smoking, including vaping, in Halls is prohibited. If you do wish to smoke/vape, ensure you are 5 metres away from any buildings
- Don't tamper with fire safety equipment
- You are responsible for your guests.
- Ensure noise levels are kept to an appropriate level at all times. There should be no noise after 11pm in Halls.
- Behave responsibly and have respect for your fellow residents.
- Bullying, discrimination and harassment will not be tolerated.
- Large speakers, bass equipment, fairy lights (plugging into mains electricity), shisha pipes, candles and joss sticks are not permitted anywhere in halls of residence
