Email: itservicedesk@royalholloway.ac.uk

3 Communication

It is vitally important that you keep in touch with us using your Royal Holloway email address; you must include your Student I.D number and programme of study: this is so we can identify who you are, as members of staff will often need to contact you to inform you of changes to teaching arrangements, special preparations you may have to make for a class, or meetings you might be required to attend. You will need to contact members of the Department if, for example, you are unable to attend a class, or you wish to arrange a meeting with your Personal Tutor. Please also note that it is College policy for administration staff to respond within 3 working days and during working hours.

3.1 Personal Tutors

Each student is assigned to a personal tutor. Each term you will have a number of scheduled personal advisor meetings, either individually or in small groups. These are compulsory and represent an important opportunity to develop your study skills, review your progress and performance and raise any questions or concerns.

Your personal tutor will be available to see you during pre-arranged meetings and is also available during their weekly office hours. Arrangements may also be made by your personal tutor, or by you, to meet at other times. Your personal tutor is concerned with your academic development and progress during your time with us, and is available to offer you advice about issues affecting your work and to discuss with you your choice of modules. Personal tutors are also willing to discuss personal difficulties which may be impacting your academic performance, but it is understood that you may prefer to take such difficulties to the College student counsellors. Your personal tutor should be your first port of call for any queries of an academic nature or for guidance on issues having an impact on your ability to study. It is your responsibility to keep your personal tutor informed of issues as they arise.

Occasionally – when, for example, a personal tutor goes on leave – changes will be made. You will be informed of any such changes as soon as possible.

Your personal tutor will probably be the member of the department best equipped to write you references for jobs during your university career, and (along with your Dissertation Supervisor) to act as a referee for jobs or higher degree programmes after graduation. It is, therefore, very much in your interest to make sure that you keep in regular contact with your personal tutor as he or she will then be able to write individual and positive recommendations on your behalf. Before you name them as a referee on an application, you should always ask your personal tutor if this is alright. You should also make sure that you give them ample time to complete any references: while you only have one personal tutor, each personal tutor has many – past and present – personal tutees!

Although you should regard your personal tutor as your first port of call in the Department, it may be that on occasions your personal tutor will direct you to another colleague, either in the Department or elsewhere, or to some other source of guidance or advice, such as the Programme Lead, Head of School, the Student Administrative Centre, the Health Centre, the Dean of Students, the Student Counsellors, or the Chaplains.

Any help you get from any of these sources, or from anyone in the Department is confidential if you prefer it that way. The Department reserves the right to inform appropriate bodies or persons if it considers that an individual is at significant risk.

3.2 Questionnaires

Modules are evaluated every year. Towards the end of each module, you will be asked by the College to fill in a questionnaire giving your evaluation of the teaching you have received, the effectiveness of library provision and the overall quality of the degree course. It is College policy that such module evaluations are completed. These are anonymous and your cooperation in making these evaluations is of great help to the Department. The results of the evaluations are considered by senior members of the department and form part of the Annual Monitoring Report of the Department.

All degree courses and modules are reviewed periodically, taking into account the student evaluations as well as issues raised at the Staff-Student Committee.

4 Teaching

4.1 Study weeks

Term dates for the year are as follows.

Autumn Term: Monday 26 September to Friday 9 December 2022

Autumn Term Study Week: Monday 31 October to Friday 4 November

Spring term: Monday 9 January to Friday 24 March 2023

Spring Term Study Week: Monday 13 February to Friday 17 February

Summer term: Monday 24 April to Friday 9 June 2023

Please note there is no teaching during the summer term.

4.2 Academic Timetable

Your individual student timetable will be available via the Web Timetables 2022 \(royalholloway.ac.uk\) page on the Student Intranet. Log in with your College username and password and view your timetable via the system or download to a personal calendar. In September you will receive communications by email about exactly how to access and download your timetable, so keep an eye out for these. Timetables are subject to change during the course of the academic year, so you should check yours regularly, (at a minimum every two days) to ensure you are using the most up to date timetable. The college will endeavour to notify you via an e-mail to your RHUL account for late changes to your timetable that will affect teaching within the next two working days, so please also check your emails regularly. All classes start on the hour. They end ten minutes before the hour to allow you to move between classes.

5 Degree Course Structure – Specific Information

Full details about your course of study, including, amongst others, the aims, learning outcomes to be achieved on completion, modules which make up the course and any course-specific regulations are set out in the course specification available through the Course Specification Repository.

You will also be able to find further details relating to the specifics of your modules on the individual Moodle Pages, the Law programme Resources Page, the CrimSoc/CrimPsych Programme Resources Page and the BSc Social Sciences Resource Page.

5.1 Change of your Degree Course

If you want to change your Degree Course to study something different, you may transfer to another programme subject to the following conditions being met before the point of transfer

- You must satisfy the normal conditions for admission to the new degree course;
- You must satisfy the requirements in respect of mandatory modules and progression specified for each stage of the new degree course up to the proposed point of entry;
- The transfer must be approved by both the department(s) responsible for teaching the new degree course and that for which you are currently registered.
- If you are a student with Tier 4 sponsorship a transfer may not be permitted by Student Route (Previously Tier 4) Immigration rules.
- You may not attend a new degree course of study until your transfer request has been approved

Once the Department(s) involved have accepted you have met the conditions above, you will need to complete the appropriate change of degree course form which can be found online at this page.

5.2 Interrupt your Studies in Term 1 and Term 2

An Interruption allows you to pause your studies for a maximum of two years. This option is suitable if you want to stop studying temporarily and come back later. Further information about this process and the implications of interrupting your studies can be found on the online form. The form will only be made available during the periods in which interruptions are permitted.

- Home/EU Students who are eligible for funding via student finance – please click here to view the form
- Overseas students who are not eligible for funding via student finance – please click here to view the form

If you are leaving your room in halls because you are interrupting your studies, you must also complete this online form to let us know when you plan to vacate your room so that you understand important information around your financial liability

5.3 Interruption of study in Term Three

It's not usually possible for you to interrupt your studies after the end of Term Two, as you're considered to have attended all of the learning and teaching and the only requirement left is for you to complete your exams and assessments (which you cannot withdraw from at this stage).

If you're unable to attend any examinations or complete assessments in Term Three, please contact your department for advice. Click here for more information about the exams and assessments period.

If you have any further queries, please contact the Student Services Centre.

5.4 Withdraw from your Studies

A withdrawal from study will permanently end your registration with the College. It's important you are aware of the implications and consider all of the options available to you before making this decision. Further information about this process and the implications of withdrawing can be found on the forms below.

- Form for UG Home/EU students who are eligible for funding via Student Finance
- Form for UG Overseas students who are not eligible for funding via Student Finance

6 Facilities

6.1 Facilities and resources within your department

The Library is housed in the Emily Wilding Davison Building.

Details, including Library Search, dedicated subject guides and opening times can be found online from the Library home page.

The Ground Floor of the Library contains a High Use Collection which includes many of the books assigned for undergraduate courses. The rest of the Library collections are on the upper floors. There are plenty of study areas and bookable rooms to carry out group work, as well as many areas to work on your own. The Library contains a large number of PCs and has laptops to borrow on the ground floor to use in other study areas.

The Information Consultant for the Department of Law and Criminology is Greg Leurs, who can be contacted at greg.leurs@rhul.ac.uk.

There are also specialist libraries relevant to Social Work students. Specialist libraries in Britain are listed in the ASLIB Directory of information sources in the United Kingdom (available in the library).

6.2 Photocopying and printing

The departmental printers and photocopier are reserved for staff use. Copier-printers (MFDs) for students are located in the Library, the Computer Centre and many PC labs, which will allow you to make copies in either black and white or colour. Further information is available here.

If you require copying to be done for a seminar presentation, you need to give these materials to your tutor to copy on your behalf. Please make sure that you plan ahead and give the materials to your tutor in plenty of time. Many of the PC labs are open 24 hours a day, 7 days a week. Alternatively, there are computers available for your use in the Library, and Computer Centre.

6.3 Computing

How to find an available PC

There are ten open access PC Labs available on campus which you can use, including three in the Computer Centre. For security reasons access to these PC Labs is restricted at night and at weekends by a door entry system operated via your College card.

7 Assessment Information

7.1 Anonymous marking and cover sheets

The Department of Law and Criminology uses anonymous marking in line with College requirements. Your Name and student number must not appear anywhere on your work. You must identify your work using your candidate number only. This can be found on Campus Connect.

All essays must be submitted with a title page which includes:

- Your candidate number
- Essay Title
- Word Count

7.2 Submission of work

All work must be submitted to the Turnitin box on Moodle before the deadline. Work can only be uploaded using a Microsoft Word or PDF document format, otherwise the marker will be unable to open this and late penalties will be applied. The academic and administrative staff will aim to release marks and feedback for work submitted to Moodle within 20 working days after the submission deadline.

Please remember that it is your responsibility to ensure that you upload the correct document to the correct Turnitin box and we strongly recommend that you upload your essay well before the deadline and check all submissions to avoid late penalties being applied.

Once the deadline has passed work cannot be re-uploaded and any incorrect work cannot be replaced.

Essays must be uploaded to Turnitin using your candidate number as the document title, please see the below screenshot demonstrating how to do this

7.3 Presentations

Part of your assessment on a module may involve delivering presentation. You may be asked to present your learning on a specific day or as an online submission. Details of presentation requirements are outline in specific module outlines.

7.4 Penalties for over-length work

Work which is longer than the stipulated length in the assessment brief won't be marked, but no penalties will be applied for exceeding the word limit.

In addition to the text, the word count should include quotations and footnotes. Please note that the following are excluded from the word count: candidate number, title, degree course title, preliminary pages, bibliography and appendices.

7.5 Penalties for late submission of work

Work submitted after the published deadline will be penalised in line with the College's Undergraduate Regulations.

In the absence of acceptable extenuating cause, late submission of work will be penalised as follows:

- (a) For work submitted up to 24 hours late, the mark will be reduced by ten percentage marks;*
- (b) For work submitted more than 24 hours late, the maximum mark will be zero

*eg. An awarded mark of 65% would be reduced to 55% and a mark of 42% would be reduced to 32%.

If you believe that you will be unable to submit coursework on time because of illness or other acceptable causes then you should apply for an extension to allow you to submit the work late without suffering a penalty.

If you did not request an extension but then miss a deadline due to factors which have affected your ability to submit work on time, then you may submit a request for extenuating circumstances to be considered. Please note however that if you do so, you will have to provide convincing reasons why you had been unable to request an extension.

7.6 Stepped marking

Work submitted for assessment will be graded by using a set of marks with the pattern X2, X5 or X8. This means that a piece of work awarded 2:1 would be awarded 62%, 65% or 68%. This approach, which is called stepped marking, has been found to help in better aligning grades with marking criteria and for providing greater clarity to students about the standard of their work and how close they are to lower and upper grade boundaries. For example, a 62% represents a low 2:1, while a 68% indicates a high 2:1.

Assessed work which is quantitative (e.g. numerical or multiple-choice tests), where there are 'right or wrong' answers, e.g. language tests/ exercises and/ or where there is a detailed mark scheme under which each question is allocated a specific number of marks will be exempt from stepped marking.

7.7 What to do if things go wrong – Extensions to deadlines

You are expected to manage your time appropriately and hand in your coursework assessments on time. However, occasionally unforeseeable or unpreventable circumstances arise which prevent you from submitting your work on time. If this is the case you may be able to apply for an extension to your submission deadline without suffering a penalty.

Please refer to the Extensions Policy and guidance on the College's webpage about Applying for an Extension.

Please note: - Not every assessment is eligible for an extension. The department do not allow extensions for multiple choice quizzes, exams, take home exams, or group presentations.

For an extension on a group presentation you should contact the Course Convenor via email copying in LSS-school@rhul.ac.uk. Any requests will then be discussed with you and the impact on other students will be evaluated before your request will be considered.

7.8 Support and exam access arrangements for students requiring support

Some students at the College may have a physical or mental impairment, chronic medical condition or a Specific Learning Difficulty (SpLD) which would count as a disability as defined by the Equality Act (2010) that is, "a physical or mental impairment which has a long-term and substantial effect on your ability to carry out normal day-to-day activities". It is for such conditions and SpLDs that Disability and Neurodiversity Team can put in place adjustments, support and exam access arrangements. Please note that a "long-term" impairment is one that has lasted or is likely to last for 12 months or more.

If you have a disability or SpLD you must register with the Disability and Neurodiversity Services Office for an assessment of your needs before adjustments, support and exam access arrangements can be put in place. There is a process to apply for special arrangements for your examinations – these are not automatically put in place. Disability and Neurodiversity Team can discuss this process with you when you register with them.

Please note that if reasonable adjustments, including exam access arrangements, have been put in place for you during the academic year, the Sub-board will not make further allowance in relation to your disability or SpLD.

7.9 What to do if you have difficulty writing legibly

It is College policy not to mark scripts which are illegible. If you anticipate that you may have difficulty in writing by hand which would lead to your scripts being illegible you should contact Disability and Neurodiversity Services. Please note the deadline for making an application for Examination Access Arrangements is in January each year. Therefore, it is in your interest to contact DDS as soon as you are able in the Autumn Term in order that you have time to get any necessary evidence required for the application

7.10 Academic misconduct

The College regulations on academic misconduct (also known as assessment offences) can found on the Attendance and Academic Regulations page of the student intranet.

Academic misconduct includes, but is not limited to plagiarism (see below), commissioning, duplication of work, (that is, submitting work for assessment which has already been submitted for assessment for the same or another module), falsification, impersonation, deception, collusion, (for example, group working would constitute collusion where the discipline or the method of assessment emphasises independent study and collective ideas are presented as uniquely those of the individual submitting the work), failure to comply with the rules governing assessment, including those set out in the 'Instructions to candidates'.

The Regulations set out some of the types of academic misconduct in more detail, the procedures for investigation into allegations of such offences and the penalties. Students are strongly encouraged to read these Regulations and to speak with their Personal Tutors or other members of staff in their department should they have any queries about what constitutes academic misconduct. The College treats academic misconduct very seriously and misunderstanding about what constitutes academic misconduct will not be accepted as an excuse. Similarly, extenuating circumstances cannot excuse academic misconduct.

What is Plagiarism?

'Plagiarism' means the presentation of another person's work in any quantity without adequately identifying it and citing its source in a way which is consistent with good scholarly practice in the discipline and commensurate with the level of professional conduct expected from the student. The source which is plagiarised may take any form (including words, graphs and images, musical texts, data, source code, ideas or judgements) and may exist in any published or unpublished medium, including the internet. Plagiarism may occur in any piece of work presented by a student, including examination scripts, although standards for citation of sources may vary dependent on the method of assessment.

Identifying plagiarism is a matter of expert academic judgement, based on a comparison across the student's work and on knowledge of sources, practices and expectations for professional conduct in the discipline. Therefore, it is possible to determine that an offence has occurred from an assessment of the student's work alone, without reference to further evidence.

The School dedicates specific study skills tutorials to plagiarism, which are compulsory and an important Opportunity for you develop a clear understanding of what constitutes plagiarism. Before uploading your first assignment you must also undertake and pass a compulsory 'avoiding plagiarism' quiz on Moodle.

8 Health and safety information

The Health and Safety webpage provides general information about our health and safety policies.

8.1 Code of practice on harassment for students

The College is committed to upholding the dignity of the individual and recognises that harassment can be a source of great stress to an individual. Personal harassment can seriously harm working, learning and social conditions and will be regarded and treated seriously. This could include grounds for disciplinary action, and possibly the termination of registration as a student.

The College's Code of Practice on personal harassment for students should be read in conjunction with the Student Disciplinary regulations and the Complaints procedure.

8.2 Lone working policy and procedures

The College has a 'Lone Working Policy and Procedure' that can be found here.

Lone working is defined as working during either normal working hours at an isolated location within the normal workplace or when working outside of normal hours. The Department and the type of work conducted by students is classified as a low risk activity and as such the following advice is relevant.

Any health and safety concerns should be brought to the attention of the Departmental Health and Safety Coordinator or the College Health and Safety Office.

It is likely that most activities will take place on College premises. However, the principles contained in the above section will apply to students undertaking duties off campus.

8.3 Field trips

Field work is defined as work or study which is undertaken outside the normal work/study environment, including any undertaken away from College owned or leased property. It will also include work that is beyond normal daily activities on College premises.

A trained field work risk assessor/health and safety coordinator must be consulted at an early stage in the planning. All field work shall be risk assessed using the standard College 'Field Work Risk Assessment Form'.

Prior to a trip, a set of contact details shall be prepared by the member of academic staff responsible for organizing the field trip and a copy will also be held by the Head of Security. Details will consist of contact address, at least two contact phone numbers and, if possible an alternative means of contact. This is to allow the College the ability to contact or re-establish contact with the group in case of an emergency.

You are reminded that you are representing Royal Holloway University of London and should act appropriately at all times. It is the student's responsibility to ensure they have the appropriate clothing and footwear.

8.4 Placements

The department has excellent links with prisons, government bodies, charities and research organisations and can offer a range of valuable placement opportunities that students can apply to undertake alongside their studies, supported by academic staff and the careers service. These placements are supported by the careers service and we provide funding to cover travel costs. Further details on specific opportunities and details of how to apply are circulated by email and advertised on noticeboards throughout the year.

11 Glossary

We understand that many of the concepts used in your everyday university life will be new to you. To make your life easier, please familiarise yourself with the following concepts.

Module Lead – A member of academic staff who is responsible for the running of a module – also known as Module Co-Ordinator, Module Convenor, Lecturer or Instructor.

Modules – also called course units. These are the specific credit-bearing units taken during one academic year. They are either “whole” modules taken over two terms (typically bearing 30 credits) or “half” modules taken within one term only (typically bearing 15 credits). Within an academic year, you will be typically taking modules adding up to 120 credits.

Lectures – usually a one-to-two-hour session in which the most important points of a topic will be discussed by the lecturer. Students are required to attend, participate, and do any upfront or follow-up activity to prepare for the Lecture and the subsequent Seminar/Workshop.

Personal Tutor – An academic member of staff will be allocated to a number of students to give advice on academic and personal matters. Your Personal Tutor is the first person to whom reference requests should be directed.

Plagiarism – The passing off the thoughts and ideas of someone else without referencing them properly and claiming them to be your own.

Programme Lead – An academic member of staff who’s responsible for the Undergraduate Programme and the students on it. Sometimes Programme Leads are referred to as the Academic Coordinators.

Registration – notice of intent to register for and take one of the modules available in that academic year. This is a School-level activity.

Repeat – Where a module has been failed a student may be offered the opportunity to Repeat. This means that all lectures and workshops are attended, all required coursework is submitted and the final examination sat. A repeat module will be charged at 25% of full fees for whole modules and 12.5% for half modules. A Repeat is the second and final attempt to pass a module. Exact amounts should be available from the Student Administration Centre and/or LSS Admin office.

Resit – Where a module has been failed a student may be offered the opportunity to Resit. This means that the student is only required to re-submit failed coursework or resit the examination. Components of the module which were passed will have their marks brought forward and the resubmitted or resit exam grades will be incorporated into the new final mark. All resit marks are capped at a maximum of 40%. There is an administrative fee for resits. Exact amounts should be available from the Student Administration Centre and/or LSS Admin office. A resit is the second and final attempt to pass a module.

Seminars – group classes which form a part of the course unit. Seminars are separate to the lecture but will act as a follow up and discussion on the topics covered in the lecture.
