1 Introduction to your department

1.1 Welcome

Welcome to Royal Holloway. Royal Holloway, University of London (hereafter 'the College') is one of the UK's leading research-intensive universities, with six academic schools spanning the arts and humanities, social sciences and sciences.

The vibrant and diverse musical life of the Department is reflected both in our scholarship (covering global arenas, including Western art music from the early modern period to the present, plus traditions and scenes in Asia, the Middle East, the Caribbean and the Americas) and in our music-making (reflected in a range of ensembles, concerts and events as well as through composition and studio work).

This handbook sets out most of what you need to know about the running of the Department, the practicalities of your studies and assessment, and includes valuable information on key aspects of academic life. Do take some time to read it through – it may save you some trouble at a later date. Of course, there is sometimes no substitute for talking to someone, so if you have questions or problems remember that there are plenty of people here to help. If you are unsure of anything, or have concerns about any aspect of the course or your work, please do not hesitate to ask for advice.

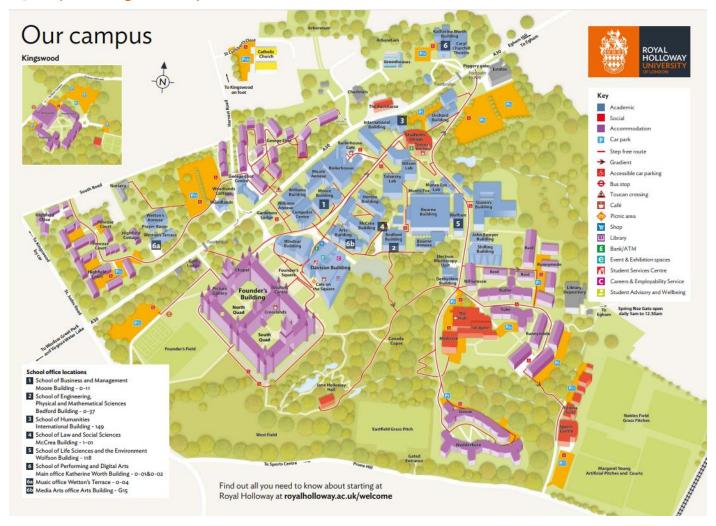

References to teaching spaces, office hours, and other physical aspects of student life on campus, are all subject to potential change in the light of government guidance on the SARS-CoV-2. Up-to-date information will be circulated by e-mail to College e-mail addresses as appropriate.

1.2 How to find us: the Department

The Department of Music is located in Wettons Terrace, standing to the North of the A30 and approached by footbridge from the main College campus. Please refer to the campus map. Wettons Terrace contains staff and teaching rooms, the student helpdesk, an IT suite and a student common room. Performance teaching and practice rooms are in neighbouring buildings: Woodlands and Woodlands Cottage. Music IT studios and world music facilities are in the North Tower of the Founders Building. The Boilerhouse Auditorium and Wettons Annexe, behind Wettons Terrace, provide large rehearsal spaces.

Access to Wettons Terrace and the practice rooms in Woodlands/Woodlands Cottage is by means of the College RCS swipecard. All students receive a card as a matter of course.

1.3 Map of the Egham campus

Please note, student parking is very limited and is not available if you live in Halls or within 1.5 miles of campus. If you do live more than 1.5 miles away or have a particular reason why you need to come to campus by car, you must apply for a parking permit. If you have a motorbike or scooter you must also register the vehicle with College. Find more information about the Parking Permit portal here.

1.5 How to find us: the School office

The School office is located in room KWBo-o1 on the ground floor of the Katharine Worth Building. Opening hours are Mondays to Fridays between 10:00am and 4:00pm. The Helpdesk is your first point of contact for administrative queries.

If you have any issues relating to your ability to perform academically, please consult with your course tutor and/or your personal tutor. You can also contact Dr. Louise Mackay, School Manager or Jackie Marty, Student & Programme Administration Manager, if any academic or administrative issues arise for which you feel you would benefit from a private consultation. The college website provides much of the information that you will need, plus contact details, during your time with us: www.royalholloway.ac.uk/students.

1.6 The Department: practical information

The Music Department at Royal Holloway has grown out of a tradition of musical activity at the College going back to its earliest years. The Department is now one of the most distinguished in the country. We achieved an extremely high ranking in the 2021 Research Excellence Framework (REF). We formed the highest ranked submission that includes Music, and in collaboration with colleagues in our Department of Drama, Theatre and Dance, we were ranked 2nd in the UK for our overall research by grade point average, by the Times Higher Education analysis. We hold the UK's only Regius Professorship in Music, awarded in 2013 for the Queen's Diamond Jubilee, in recognition of 'exceptional standards of teaching and research. At any given time, there are about 220 undergraduates enrolled on degree courses in Music, and about 60 postgraduates (around 20 studying for a Master's degree, and about 40 for a PhD).

1.7 Staff research interests

Detailed information on staff profiles and interests can be found online at: https://www.royalholloway.ac.uk/research-and-teaching/departments-and-schools/music/about-us/academic-staff/

2 Support and advice

2.1 Support within your School

The School Helpdesk is there to help you with any questions or concerns you might have about your studies. It is situated in room o-o1 of the Katharine Worth Building. Opening hours are 10:00am to 4:00pm. The Helpdesk can also be contacted via +44 (0)1784 276885 or pda-school@rhul.ac.uk. Depending on your query, the Helpdesk will answer your questions then and there, put you in touch with a colleague who can help, or find out the answer and get back to you.

Your first point of reference for advice within the Department is your personal tutor, or if you have a specific question about your class please contact the module convener. Inevitably, problems will sometimes arise that staff within the department are not qualified to deal with. The College offers a high level of student welfare support which includes a highly regarded Counselling Service, dedicated educational and disability support, as well as a wealth of student wellbeing financial, career and other advice. There is also an NHS GP practice (the Health Centre) on campus located in Founder's East. Further details of each service can be found on the College web on the Student Welfare page.

For more information on Wellbeing and access to counsellors, visit: https://intranet.royalholloway.ac.uk/students/help-support/wellbeing/student-wellbeing.aspx.

3 Communication

3.1 Email, MS TEAMs, Post

The primary mode of communication between staff and students will be via email. It is essential that all students check and respond to their email accounts regularly. Additional information may also be conveyed via MS Teams software and channels; students are also advised to check these platforms regularly.

All paper post addressed to students in Music is delivered to the student pigeonholes (alphabetical by surname) in Room 002, the Student Common Room of Wettons Terrace. At the end of each term student pigeonholes are cleared of accumulated mail which is then destroyed. Important information from Academic Services is often sent by internal post and tutors sometimes return work to you via the pigeonholes so you are advised to check them regularly.

3.2 Notice boards

The official student notice boards are on the walls in the Student Common Room. Every effort is made to post notices relating to class times well in advance, but occasionally changes have to be made at short notice and in that case, email will be used.

It is your responsibility to check the times and venues of all class meetings and of any requirements (e.g. essay deadlines) relating to your modules, so, if in doubt, please ask!

3.3 Personal Tutors

Students are allocated a supervisory team of two: a supervisor (normally the member of staff to be associated with their Special Study) and an adviser. The supervisor will be the main contact for MMus and PGDip students whilst preparing their special study. The adviser is available to discuss both academic matters (he/she may have some useful alternative perspectives to offer) and personal ones. For all intents and purposes, the personal tutor for all other matters is the PGT Education Lead (T1&2 Julie Brown julie.brown@rhul.ac.uk, T3 Shzr Ee Tan shzree.tan@rhul.ac.uk).

All members of staff post, outside their offices, two separate and regular 'office hours' each week when they are available to see students without appointment, on any matter. All staff office hours are also available to view on the Music Department General Information page on Moodle (alongside other useful information). Excepting emergencies, students are asked to make an appointment via email if they wish to see a member of staff outside these hours.

Personal advisers and supervisors will offer advice about work, help overcome academic or personal difficulties and discuss module choices, and they should ultimately be the members of staff best equipped to write references for jobs or for further study. Music's (Undergraduate) Education Lead, PGT Education Lead, PGR Lead and/or Head of Department also will see any student who wishes to discuss matters academic or personal.

Students with a serious case for a change of supervisor/adviser should approach the PGT Education Lead or Head of Department as appropriate.

Students in financial difficulty should contact the PGT Education Lead or the Head of Department for details of College schemes to provide aid in terms of loans or additional grants. Although the Department has no funds for such purposes, we may be able to provide advice on and assistance with applications to appropriate College or external bodies.

For more information on student finance, visit https://www.royalholloway.ac.uk/studying-here/fees-and-funding/financial-support/.

3.4 Questionnaires

Student feedback is a valuable guide to the effectiveness of modules and an aid to their improvement and development; comments (to the module tutor concerned) are always welcome while a module is in progress.

Furthermore, the College requires a formal system of student feedback by way of a questionnaire completed at the end of each module (normally in the last class). This feedback questionnaire is particularly important and should be treated seriously: for the procedure to be effective, we need responses from everyone. Please offer constructive comments (both positive and negative) on a given course: this will permit us to evaluate our activities and, where necessary, to improve things for the future. Questionnaires are completed anonymously and there are no repercussions for respondents of any kind.

3.5 Space

Most class teaching will be held in Wettons Terrace, or the electronic studios in the North Tower. Some performance classes are held in the Picture Gallery or Boiler House. Instrumental and vocal tuition, as well as your own instrumental and vocal practice, will be held in Woodlands Building and Cottage, as well as Engineer's Cottage. For more details, see section 5.1 Facilities.

4 Teaching

4.1 Study weeks

The MMus and PG Dip courses are conducted over three terms, as per official RHUL term dates. In this arrangement, there are no Reading Weeks. Most of the Special Study components will be taught in Term 3, the exact delivery of which will be liaised with your Special Study supervisor.

5 Degree structure

Full details about your modules, including, amongst others, the aims, learning outcomes to be achieved on completion, modules which make up the module and any module-specific regulations are set out in the module specifications available through the Module Catalogue. Details about the whole course are set out in the course specifications available through the Course Specification Repository.

5.1 Department specific information about degree structure

To help you make good progress in your studies at RHUL, we have a simple on-line module SS1001 in 'Academic Integrity' which will guide you through preparing your assignments using the best academic standards. You will need to successfully complete this short module, and you can have as many attempts as you like before the deadline to pass it.

5.1.1 Module Registrations

While you have the option of changing module unit registrations within the first two/ three weeks after the start of teaching (excluding Welcome Week) subject to agreement from the department, once you have submitted assessment for the module, you may not replace it with another either in that term or in a subsequent term (e.g. Spring term). Any modules that you wish to take on an extracurricular basis (that is, as extra and not counting towards your degree) must be identified at the start of the academic year or before any assessment has been completed for the module.

5.1.2 Administration and Supervision

The MMus in Advanced Musical Studies and PGDip in Music Performance is convened by the PGT Education Lead and reviewed by a number of Department Committees, on which PGT students are represented (except for 'reserved' business). The PGT Education Lead acts with the UG Education Lead and the Head of Department in matters of quality assurance (monitoring of teaching and assessment etc.). The Department Teaching & Learning Committee, reporting to the PDA School Education Committee, maintains oversight of PGT courses, ensuring that their operation and future development (e.g. in terms of curriculum review) keep pace with student demand and with developments in the field.

The modular structure, teaching methods, feedback/review and assessment procedures are intended to permit the early identification of students with problems and/or in danger of failing the course. Students are expected to prepare for officially timetabled lessons beforehand by conducting appropriate reading and engagement with pre-lecture material. Failure to attend classes and (where relevant) instrumental/vocal lessons, to submit coursework or to attend supervisions will be closely monitored and, if appropriate, will result in Formal Warning(s) as described in the College Postgraduate Taught Regulations (http://www.royalholloway.ac.uk/ecampus/academicsupport/regulations/home.aspx).

Student feedback is obtained on a regular basis by informal discussion and by formal questionnaires. PGT students nominate a number of their fellow students to act as their representatives on the Department's Teaching & Learning, and Performance Committees; as well as on the PDA School Postgraduate Student-Staff Committee and with the Students' Union. Such feedback and the minutes of the appropriate committees also provide support for the formal annual monitoring of the degree.

5.1.3 Annual Review

All MMus and PG Dip students participate in the Annual Review of Postgraduates, normally held in early May. This meeting, which involves the student's supervisor, advisor and other members of staff as necessary, provides an opportunity to take an overview of a student's progress to date and deal with other pastoral and administrative matters. MMus and PG Dip students are also required to attend an Informal Progress Meeting (Mini Review), normally held in December or January. For the January meeting, students are expected to prepare a 500-word summary of the work/ goals they have achieved so far in the first term.

For the Annual Review, students are expected to supply written work as specified below. Three copies of all documents should be submitted to the Department Office two weeks before the date of the Review meeting. Normal standards of scholarly presentation apply.

- (i) MMus students taking Special Study: Dissertation during the current academic year should submit an outline (c.500 words) of the proposed Special Study, and a progress report (covering all aspects of their coursework) of about 250 words.
- (ii) MMus students taking Special Study: Performance during the current academic year should submit an outline (c.500 words) of the proposed Recital programme (including estimated timings), a progress report (covering all aspects of their coursework) of about 250 words, and a calendar of public performances during the year to date.
- (iii) MMus students taking Special Study: Composition during the current academic year should submit a detailed plan (c.500 words) of the proposed portfolio of compositions, and a progress report (covering all aspects of their coursework) of about 250 words.
- (iv) Part-time MMus students in their first year of study should submit a progress report (covering all aspects of their coursework) of about 250 words.
- (v) CPD (Continuing Professional Development) students will normally have a review at the end of their first, third and penultimate years of study, for which they should submit a progress report (covering all aspects of their coursework) of about 250 words.

5.1.4 Skills, Employment and Research Training

The aims of the MMus course make explicit that it is designed as a free-standing degree in its own right. Those who complete the course successfully will have professional skills in their chosen discipline(s) at a high level – as well as a raft of transferable skills in reasoning, oral and written communication and independent working – and thus will be well equipped to find employment either within or outside Music. Recent MMus graduates have found jobs in performance, arts administration, the media, in teaching, in librarianship and in finance and commerce, or have remained within academe to study for a research degree. Others have built on their MMus experience to explore pathways in law, psychology and music therapy.

These aims also make explicit the role of the MMus in providing research training for future programmes of study. Students gain such training through the core and elective modules (the general and more specific, respectively) and (especially) the Special Study. In the case of the MMus in Advanced Musical Studies, the possibility of taking courses outside the Department is also evaluated in terms of such modules' contributions to research training. The PGDip in Musical Performance provides a firm foundation for students wishing to embark upon professional work in a range of areas of the music profession. These include the media, research, academia, teaching, performing and arts administration.

All PGT students are encouraged, and may be required, to participate in certain College-based research-training schemes (for example, through the Faculty of Arts and Information Services) and are further encouraged to take advantage of other non-credit modules in the College (in languages, computing etc.) and work experience as may be available to equip them for future work in their fields.

All PGT students working or writing in English as a Second Language are strongly recommended to sign up for scheduled regular workshops with CeDAS in each term, and set up appointments for one-to-one consultations with appropriate CeDAS staff on preparing for assessed work.

5.2 Change of course

Where provision is made for this in the course specification, you may transfer to another course, subject to the following conditions being met before the point of transfer:

- (a) you must satisfy the normal conditions for admission to the new course;
- (b) you must satisfy the requirements in respect of mandatory courses and progression specified for each stage of the new course up to the proposed point of entry;
- (c) the transfer must be approved by both the department(s) responsible for teaching the new programme and that for which you are currently registered.
- (d) if you are a student with Tier 4 sponsorship a transfer may not be permitted by Tier 4 Immigration rules.
- (e) you may not attend a new course of study until their transfer request has been approved.

Further information about changing courses is available in Section 8 of the Postgraduate Taught Regulations. If you hold a Tier 4 (General) student visa, there may be further restrictions in line with UKVI regulations.

6 Facilities

6.1 Facilities and resources within your department

Practice Rooms

Practice rooms are situated in the Woodlands Building and Cottage (the house down the drive from the Department), Engineer's Cottage (beside the Boilerhouse Café), and Wettons Terrace oo5 (behind the Music building accessed via the central alleyway). A room in Woodlands is available for ensemble rehearsals by way of a booking system through the Performance Manager. In the interests of security and personal safety, access to Woodlands is by means of the student's RCS card, which operates during the hours o6.ooam – midnight daily. Full access to the Woodlands practice rooms is restricted at present to Music students and Music Department staff, although by special arrangement members of certain ensembles may be given off-peak access. Almost all rooms contain a piano and all rooms in Woodlands Building have mirrors. Please treat the practice rooms and the instruments and equipment they contain with care and respect. Pianos and other keyboard instruments should not be moved about any of the rooms: this can lead to damage and disturbs the tuning. Eating and drinking are not allowed in the practice rooms, nor are students permitted to engage in any teaching of their own there (whether of College students or those from outside RHUL).

Room oo1 in Wettons Terrace also acts as a small recital room, and is available for some rehearsals by arrangement and risk assessment, but only when it does not clash with or disrupt teaching in the Department. The Picture Gallery is not normally available for practice and nor is the Boilerhouse Auditorium unless in exceptional circumstances.

iMac Suite and North Tower

The iMac Suite on the ground floor of Wettons Terrace is open to all Music students from 8.30am to 6pm via your College swipe card. (This former IT suite was originally created with the help of a generous benefaction by Miss Agnes Divine, a former member of the College.) The suite contains 16 iMACs, midi keyboards, headphones, Focusrite-Digital Audio Interfaces, music sequencing software (Logic Pro and Ableton), Sibelius, and Sonic Visualiser which are maintained by the Music Studios Manager (Martin.Astle@rhul.ac.uk). It also contains 2 networked PCs, with standard word-processing, database, internet and music-processing software (including Finale, Sibelius and EarMaster) maintained by the College's Computer Centre, to whom all issues and problems should be addressed. The Sibelius software is also installed on PCs in the Davison Building.

More specialist studio facilities in the North Tower include production suites for composition and film music, and two rooms housing a gamelan and a large collection of world music instruments. Enquiries about the studio facilities should be addressed to Dr Tom Parkinson (Tom.Parkinson@rhul.ac.uk); enquiries about the gamelan and instrument collection should be addressed to Dr Henry Stobart (Henry.Stobart@rhul.ac.uk).

Access to the North Tower studios and world music rooms is restricted to Music students relevant modules and Music Department staff.

Please note: The iMac suite is not an alternative common room: eating, drinking and the use of mobile phones are not permitted. Please respect other users by not talking or causing other disturbances. Access will be withdrawn from students who consistently disturb others in these ways.

6.2 The Library

Details, including Library Search, dedicated subject guides and opening times can be found online from the library home page: http://www.royalholloway.ac.uk/library/home.aspx.

The Ground Floor of the Library contains a High Use Collection bringing together much of the course reading into one area. The rest of the library collections are on the upper floors. There are plenty of study areas and bookable rooms to carry out group work as well as many areas to work on your own. The Library contains a large number of PCs and has laptops to borrow to use in other study areas.

If you cannot find the specific items that you require in the library, it is possible order an Inter-Library Loan or to gain access to the online resources of Senate House Library as well as access to use the library's physical collections or other university libraries. You can obtain further information on this here: https://www.royalholloway.ac.uk/library/usingourlibraries/otherlibraries/using-other-libraries.aspx. The Information Consultant for Music is Stavroula Kiritsi, who can be contacted at Stavroula.Kiritsi@rhul.ac.uk.

The Library provides a range of training sessions designed to enhance your existing library and research skills. These are available in both class-based and self-study formats. For information on available sessions and to book a place, go to: Training for all.

In addition to the material at Royal Holloway there is the richly stocked library at Senate House, University of London, Malet Street, WC2 (nearest Underground stations Tottenham Court Road, Goodge Street and Russell Square), a collection of national importance to which all RH students have access (a library card will be issued only upon presentation of a validated RHUL registration form available from Founders Library or Bedford Library). Other libraries in London include the British Library (normally accessible only to postgraduate students), various University of London college libraries (KCL, Goldsmiths, SOAS) and the Westminster Central Music Library.

6.3 Photocopying and printing

You can use copier-printers (MFDs) located in the Library, the Computer Centre and many PC labs, which will allow you to make copies in either black and white or colour. Further information is available online: https://www.royalholloway.ac.uk/it/printing/home.aspx.

Many of the PC labs are open 24 hours a day, 7 days a week. Alternatively, there are computers available for your use in the Library and Computer Centre.

Departmental staff are unable, in any circumstances, to print anything out on your behalf. Copier-printers (MFDs) are located across the campus in the PC labs, the Library, and Computer Centre. Further information on printing is available online: http://www.royalholloway.ac.uk/it/printing/home.aspx.

6.4 Computing

How to find an available PC

There are ten open access PC Labs available on campus which you can use, including three in the Computer Centre. For security reasons access to these PC Labs is restricted at night and at weekends by a door entry system operated via your College card.

Students should observe standard safety procedures when dealing with electronic equipment (including taking regular breaks away from the screen and the keyboard). Late-night users should also take the normal security precautions when entering or leaving the room.

The Computer Centre provides a range of IT training sessions designed to enhance your current IT skills. These are available in both class-based and self-study formats, and successful completion of the course is rewarded by a College IT Skills certificate. To participate in these sessions, go to: http://www.royalholloway.ac.uk/it/training/home.aspx.

7 Assessment information

7.1 Anonymous marking, cover sheets and Marking Criteria

Royal Holloway's e-learning platform is Moodle. Once you are registered onto your chosen modules, you will have access to module-specific Moodle sites where you will access your reading lists, along with a variety of other learning materials. You will also have access to the General Information for Students: Department of Music on Moodle. This is a crucial resource, and is where you will find coursework coversheets, information about PGT Marking Criteria, writing style guides, and links to many other resources. It is worth exploring Moodle beyond Music's resources, because it hosts many extra-curricular e-learning possibilities, including language support, general academic skills, e-learning support.

You also submit your coursework on Moodle (see 7.2). Each time you do this, you must complete the relevant coursework coversheet and attach it to the front of your work. Do not forget to include your Candidate number. Feedback is also provided on Moodle, via comments and annotations on coursework texts. All coursework is marked anonymously, and anonymous second-marking is carried out in the assessment of dissertations.

In addition to Moodle, Royal Holloway makes use of Microsoft Teams. Teams are created for all course modules to facilitate the use of flexible hybrid teaching methods.

7.2 Submission of work

Most coursework is to be submitted via Turnitin on the college Moodle platform. Submission deadlines and links to upload work will be provided in good time before deadlines. Some courses requiring large file uploads will be submitted via alternative arrangement (e.g. Dropboxes). Please contact your individual course convenor for specific information on course submissions. Coursework deadlines are usually due in the middle or end of each term, but staggered over several days. Summative course deadlines will be published at the start of the academic year. In addition to summative work, you are expected to complete formative submissions – as per arrangement with individual course tutors.

7.3 Marking of over-length work

Work which is longer than the stipulated length in the assessment brief will be marked in line with Section 13, paragraph (6) of the College's Postgraduate Taught Regulations:

Section 13 (6)

Any work (written, oral presentation, film, performance) may not be marked beyond the upper limit set. The upper limit may be a word limit in the case of written work or a time limit in the case of assessments such as oral work, presentations, films or performance. In the case of presentations, films or performance these may be stopped once they exceed the upper time limit.

In addition to the text, the word count should include quotations and footnotes. Please note that the following are excluded from the word count: candidate number, title, course title, preliminary pages, bibliography and appendices.

7.4 What to do if things go wrong - Extensions to deadlines

Please refer to the Extensions Policy and guidance on the College's webpage about Applying for an Extension.

Please note: Not every assessment is eligible for an extension.

Listed below are the assessments for which extensions cannot be granted (i.e. are exempt):

There can be no extension whatsoever on the deadline for the submission or completion of Special Studies, apart from the general provisions relating to late submission and extenuating circumstances. If this deadline is not met, the candidate may have to wait until the following year to be considered by the Sub-Board of Examiners for the award of the MMus/PGDip, depending on the circumstances in question.

7.5 Support and exam access arrangements for students requiring support

Some students at the College may have a physical or mental impairment, chronic medical condition or a Specific Learning Difficulty (SpLD) which would count as a disability as defined by the Equality Act (2010) that is, "a physical or mental impairment which has a long-term and substantial effect on your ability to carry out normal day-to-day activities". It is for such conditions and SpLDs that Disability and Dyslexia Services can put in place support and exam access arrangements. Please note that a "long-term" impairment is one that has lasted or is likely to last for 12 months or more.

If you have a disability or SpLD you must register with the Disability and Dyslexia Services Office before support and exam access arrangements ('reasonable adjustments') can be put in place. There is a process to apply for special arrangements for your examinations. Disability and Dyslexia Services can discuss this process with you when you register with them. Please see the section Students in need of support (including disabled students) for further guidance about registering with the Disability and Dyslexia Services Office.

Please note that if reasonable adjustments, including exam access arrangements, have been put in place for you during the academic year, the Sub-board will not normally make further allowance in relation to your disability or SpLD.

7.6 Academic misconduct - Plagiarism

'Plagiarism' means the presentation of another person's work in any quantity without adequately identifying it and citing its source in a way which is consistent with good scholarly practice in the discipline and commensurate with the level of professional conduct expected from the student. The source which is plagiarised may take any form (including words, graphs and images, musical texts, data, source code, ideas or judgements) and may exist in any published or unpublished medium, including the internet.

Plagiarism may occur in any piece of work presented by a student, including examination scripts, although standards for citation of sources may vary dependent on the method of assessment. Identifying plagiarism is a matter of expert academic judgement, based on a comparison across the student's work and on knowledge of sources, practices and expectations for professional conduct in the discipline. Therefore it is possible to determine that an offence has occurred from an assessment of the student's work alone, without reference to further evidence.

The Centre for the Development of Academic Skills (CeDAS) offers an 'Avoiding Plagiarism' course on Moodle ('Writing with Sources and Avoiding Plagiarism') and all students are strongly advised to take it.

CeDAS also offers a full range of PGT-focussed courses on academic writing, project strategising and research skills. This includes one-to-one sessions on language work and academic essay planning. In addition to the 'Avoiding Plagiarism; course, you are strongly encouraged to attend other sessions run by the centre and make contact with CeDAS advisors on your essay-based coursework. 8 Engagement Requirements

The Attendance Monitoring webpage provides more information about the attendance and engagement requirements.

9 Health and Safety Information

The Health and Safety webpage provides general information about our health and safety policies.

9.1 Code of practice on harassment for students

The College is committed to upholding the dignity of the individual and recognises that harassment can be a source of great stress to an individual. Personal harassment can seriously harm working, learning and social conditions and will be regarded and treated seriously. This could include grounds for disciplinary action, and possibly the termination of registration as a student.

The College's Code of Practice on personal harassment for students should be read in conjunction with the Student Disciplinary regulations and the Complaints procedure.

9.2 Lone working policy and procedures

The College has a 'Lone Working Policy and Procedure' that can be found here.

Lone working is defined as working during either normal working hours at an isolated location within the normal workplace or when working outside of normal hours. The Department and the type of work conducted by students is classified as a low risk activity.

Any health and safety concerns should be brought to the attention of the Departmental Health and Safety Coordinator or the College Health and Safety Office.

It is likely that most activities will take place on College premises. However, the principles contained in the above section will apply to students undertaking duties off campus.

9.3 Field trips

Some courses (e.g. MU5550 Techniques in Ethnomusicology, Documenting Performance and Special Study – Ethnomusicology Pathway) are designed to include, where appropriate, elements of fieldwork and ethnography (including online ethnography). Students are expected to liaise with the course convenor(s) concerning specific details of any fieldwork they intend to undertake in any of their courses, making sure that they also observe health and safety concerns, as well as the College's Ethics policy.

10 Equality, Diversity and Inclusion

In line with College policy, the department has made a commitment to the principles of Equality, Diversity and Inclusion (EDI) for all, and strives to go beyond the public sector duty placed upon us by the Equality Act 2010. We believe that all students (plus staff and visitors) should work to make their learning, teaching, research, administrative and leisure environments supportive and nurturing spaces, free from bullying, harassment, discrimination or victimisation. If you have an issue to discuss in relation to equality and diversity, or wish to get involved with EDI work, please contact the PGT Education Lead, Julie Brown (Julie.Brown@rhul.ac.uk) or Head of Department, Mark Berry (Mark.Berry@rhul.ac.uk).
