

Community Action Project Fundraising and Marketing

Community Action Partner British Afghan Women's Society

Aim: The British Afghan Women's Society is a charity that aims to support and empower Afghan and other refugee women and youth living in the UK since 2001. We offer a wide range of services within and outside the Afghan community, promote intercultural communication and fundraise for development projects in Afghanistan.

Role: BAWS is currently looking for a Fundraising and Marketing Intern to work on grant applications, fundraising events and the organization's public and media presence. An ideal BAWS volunteer is committed to empowering women, values cultural diversity, has a strong sense of responsibility, and is happy to work flexibly. The skills they are looking for include; verbal and written communication, IT, time-management and ability to work to tight deadlines, and interpersonal skills. They would ask that you were happy to travel to North and West London.

Other opportunities include project workers, as BAWS always needs volunteers for their projects working with women and young people. Whether it's conducting research, filming, writing articles, organising workshops, activities, there is something for everyone.

Training: BAWS provides a full induction to the organisation and offers in-house training and access to external training opportunities.

Location: Edmonton, London, N9

Times: For the fundraising and marketing role - Wednesdays and/or Fridays with occasional evening and weekend work.

CRB: No CRB disclosure is required for the specific role mentioned above.

Application: All volunteers must be registered as Community Action volunteers. To do so, visit <http://www.rhul.ac.uk/services/volunteering/register.html>
