Lauriston Lights

Aim: Lauriston Lights runs two-week summer camps that empower and inspire high achieving 11-year-old children from low socio-economic backgrounds to reach their full potential. With university students as mentors, constant encouragement of aptitude and character strengths, the use of innovative teaching tools and the opportunity for the children to listen and be heard on a daily basis, they are unique.

Roles: They are looking summer camp leaders and mentors. As a leader the volunteers will facilitate all the workshops. They will also lead the workshop which is personally designed individually or with other mentors. As a mentor, the volunteers are assigned a maximum of 3 children. They will have regular one on one session to build a strong relationship with the kids who are encouraged to develop their individual academic and extra curricular interests.

Training: From 6th to 8th August with an introduction to the practice of Philosophy for Children (Level 1)

Location: London

Times: The camp is two weeks from 11th to 22nd August and from 8.50am to 3.30pm

DBS: A DBS check is required for this role.
